

I would be very upset if this challenge were to pass. Before we got on the no-call list, there were days that we would get 10 or more calls from solicitors. To me, it feels like a violation of my privacy, not to mention how incredibly irritating it is to hear your phone ring so much. Such calls have caused me to refuse to do any business with anyone who tries to sell me something over the phone. Please do not allow the no-call bill to be challenged or changed.
